

Virginia Business Education Association

The 2012 Great Ideas theme is “Connecting Career Pathways through Business and Information Technology.”

Career Pathways provide a seamless transition for students from secondary to postsecondary education and the skilled workforce and positions students for high wage, high demand, and/or high skill careers. As business and information technology teachers, we must provide students good foundations now that will open doors in the future and better prepare them for rapid changes that take place in the workplace as well as our society.

Please share with your colleagues your Great Idea lesson plan for connecting career pathways through business and information technology.
